Taxes, Squirrels And A Real Estate Deal

If anybody has any doubts in his mind as to whether it pays to advertise, he should drop in for a visit with Tax Collector Tom Hefling at city hall. Since the delinquent tax list was published in The Pine Cone two weeks ago, one-third of the property owners whose names appeared on the list have paid up.

Tuesday was the last chance for the remaining "delinquents." At 10:00 o'clock in the morning, according to law, Tax Collector Hefling solemnly read aloud in his empty office the legal form by which he sold to the city the property on which the taxes had not been paid. Owners still have five years to redeem their property, but they occasionally fail to do so. At the present moment the city has some forty lots to which it has full title, a nice little nest egg about which everybody concerned has been very quiet. We should like to recommend it to the attention of the planning commission.

Don Craig suggested several months ago that it might be a good idea for the planning commission to consider acquiring here and there throughout the town unimproved lots with trees and native shrubs on them, so as to have a few "natural areas" left in the community after private property owners have finished sawing and bulldozing what is left of the natural verdure off their lots. It was a very attractive suggestion, but at the time seemed a little visionary—unimproved lots in Carmel are not cheap, and Carmel tax payers have become so accustomed to a comparatively low tax rate that they are thoroughly spoiled. Buy lots with tax money to establish "natural areas!" Even though Carmel's greatest asset is its natural beauty, and it would be a sound business procedure to try to save some of it, try to make the tax payer see it. However, in the light of the 40 city-owned lots, Craig's "natural areas" move into the realm of the possible. Some of the 40 may be suitable for the purpose Craig had in mind. Those that are not could be sold and the money used for purchasing forested lots. Certainly, if it is at all possible, something should be done to preserve some part of our forest, shrubs, and wildflowers, not only for the beauty of the plants and trees, but to provide housing and food for the gray squirrels, birds, and other animals who live here and are no small part of the attractiveness of the community, but who will surely pack up and leave if the citizens continue to destroy their means of livelihood.

If anything is done about Craig's suggestion it will have to be done shortly, because lots that the planning commission would consider suitable for "natural areas" are fast taking on the contour of a skating rink, and will soon be covered with houses, clotheslines, picket fences and geometric flower beds, instead of pines, oaks, purple ceonothus and sticky monkey flower.—Wilma Cook.

Bob Baker, Who Can Make A Five Inch Elephant Wink, Revisits His Home Town With A Diminutive Company

This must surely be the era for youth, when a veteran of fifteen years, who has just had a 23rd birthday, is hailed as the Ziegfeld of Puppetland. Bob Baker drove through Carmel last weekend, in company with a group of distinguished puppets, each 30 inches tall, with movable eyes and eyebrows, wagging mouths and springing joints. Their gorgeous costumes, stitched in miniature perfection and designed for fashion as well as for color scheme, attracted a group of children while Baker obliged with a private demonstration of their agility.

Bob used to live around the Point—in fact his entire childhood was spent here—but now when he returns it is as the owner of a puppet factory. In the last three years he has delivered 23,000 custom-made puppets to various parts of the country. Popular Science and other magazines have been running laudatory articles about his phenomenal success. In his shop at Hollywood his staff designs the characters to be created, every detail of costume and equipment carefully blueprinted. After the plan of a puppet is finished and studied and approved, a complete day is spent in making it come alive.

The biggest project of this marionette genius is in the making of a complete show for enactment by the Baker Stock Company. It is necessary to arrange for characters, color schemes and lighting effects, not to say the selection of musical background. There is one of his shows, the Circus, which presents 150 members of the puppet cast. Recently Bob was required to produce a shorter version of his Circus, in which he showed only 83 puppets. All the clowns were named after the famous clowns of the world, and the ballerina on a white horse, who waltzed or knelt for applause, was a delectable morsel. The 5½-foot-high elephant winked his eye when he folded his trunk. In the howdah on his back sat a demure miss fanning herself in obvious boredom, her wrist motion something of a triumph in the marionette art. The background was made of gold and silver lame, striped in brilliant colors, and each act was planned so that the colors presented to the public began by being bright but deepened in quality to the point of excitement as the action progressed.

This show cost Bob Baker nearly $19,000 to produce for five weeks, every day of each week, eleven shows each day, each show lasting 27 minutes. He and his staff operated the puppets from a narrow platform along which they often had to run, knocking one another out of the way in the fury of timing properly. The band leader had joints on the wrists, with springs, and he was operated from below, on a disc moved by motors, and the sound of the trumpet set the whole band off. Every tiny instrument in the hands of the players was a replica of the real thing, minutely executed.

The music for this show was played by a 30-piece orchestra and included anything expressive from Bach to Stravinsky. Even an organ grinder came in at the proper instant, and Bach was played on a (Continued on page Seventeen)

GETTING AROUND THE PENINSULA

By GLENN CLAIRMONTE

George Pollock of the Seaside Chamber of Commerce is the general chairman of the patriotic celebration, for the benefit of East Monterey playgrounds and parks, to be held at the Monterey County Fair Grounds on July 4, 5 and 6. Entertainment will begin at 8 o'clock each morning and will continue far into the night, including rifle shoots, dog shows, horse shows, fireworks and dances. All business organizations and clubs who can take part in the big parade through the business district of Monterey, at 11:00 o'clock on the morning of the Fourth, should communicate with Ben Norwood, chairman of the parade committee. The Seaside Lions Club will arouse historic interest with their tableau, Days of the 49ers, and barbecues will satisfy the more material appetites of the crowd.

Last Sunday, for the first project of the newly formed U. S. Navy Reserve Unit of the Monterey Peninsula, the Coast Guard loaned a rescue boat for an all-day cruise up the coast. Lieutenant John Logan attended as navigator and instructor, and Chief Boatswain Charles E. Dominy conducted exercises in Man Overboard, Fire and Rescue. The men taking part were S. Smario, V. D. Hurst, G. D. Bowles, C. F. Van Meter, L. G. Chassagne, J. B. Villegas, H. A. Jewell, Jr., C. H. Meyers, R. W. Crawford, J. D. Wootan, J. S. Thomas, L. A. Harvey, J. R. Doty, W. B. Mack, D. L. Harris, and R. A. Rader. Each one was given a turn at the wheel and all of them showed enthusiasm about the work. There were a couple of (Continued on Page Four)

Carmel Property Set At Fifteen Million Valuation; Tax Rate To Be Lowered

Carmel property values have increased three million dollars in the past year, to reach a total valuation of 15 million dollars, City Assessor Peter Mawdsley, winding up his assessment roll for this year, estimates. City assessments are based on 50 percent valuation, and Mawdsley states that the assessment roll, which he will deposit with the City Clerk (himself) on July 1, will reach the seven and a half million mark. It was six million last year.

Hearing On Childers, Langner Petitions Set For Wednesday

For the first time the planning commission will exercise its new powers as board of control when it presides over a public hearing on two applications for special building permits at 4 p. m. Wednesday afternoon at city hall.

Councilman Charles Childers has petitioned the commission for a use permit to allow him to construct housing for a car lift at his service station at Mission and Seventh streets. The service station constitutes a non-conforming use in zone C-1. The nine other service stations in zone C-1 are also non-conforming, since the ordinance confining such businesses to (Continued on page Four)

What effect will this increase have on the citizens' tax bill? Mawdsley says he hopes none, for he intends to ask the city council to fix the tax rate at 92 cents this year; last year's was $1.15. There will still be some increase in revenue for the city, Mawdsley believes, in taxes on property improved in the past year, about $125,000 assessed valuation, and from other sources.

City needs have increased in two departments. There will be another patrolman's salary to pay in the police department, and it is Mawdsley's belief that the library should have an enlarged budget. "They've been barely getting along this year," he said. He hopes, however, that these increases in costs can be met and the city tax rate still lowered at least twenty percent.

Carmel High School Class Of '47 Will Receive Diplomas Tonight

The seventh annual commencement of the Carmel High School will be held this evening at 8:00 o'clock. The 49 graduates will come down the two aisles of the Sunset Auditorium, wearing their royal blue robes and academic caps with white tassels, while the high school orchestra plays Elgar's Pomp and Circumstance. The Rev. Alfred B. Seccombe will give the invocation, and salute to the flag will be led by Max Hodges. The girls' glee club, accompanied by Miss Jean Stanbridge, will sing Spirit Flower, by Campbell-Tipton, and Open Thy Blue Eyes, by Massenet.

The three addresses of the evening will be given by honor students who were selected because of their outstanding poise as well as scholarship. Roger Byers will speak on Humanities and Science, Victor Harber on Humanities and Education, and Mary Gregory will cover the subject, Humanities and Society. Robert Jensen will give two solos, Grieg's I Love Thee Dear and Strauss' To You.

Dedication by Franz and the traditional Crusaders Hymn will be rendered by the senior ensemble, which is composed of Perry Brown, Patricia Bullard, Arlene Douglas, Victor Harber, Robert Jensen, Thelma Malvido, Mary Poore, James Snively, Barbara Stoney, and Diana Tait. Susan Dekker, president of the senior class, will make a presentation of a class gift to the school, and Harold Nielsen, president of the board of trustees, will present diplomas to the following:

Patricia Bacon, Robert John Bell, Perry Ainsworth Brown, Patricia Jewell Bullard, Roger S. Byers, Patricia Joan Carr, Suzita Cecil, John S. Chitwood, Jr., Jane Marie Coughlin, Donald Y. Day, Susan Mary Dekker, Arlene Lucille Douglas, Dagmar Imogene Dreier, John Frey, Jr., Carla May George, Theodosia Louise Greene, Mary Morton Gregory, Joseph Louis Goodrick, Jr., Joanne Elizabeth Gorham, Victor Frederick Harber, Lorraine Louise Harris, (Continued on Page Four)

Was It You Who Got The First Ticket On Ocean?

Whoever owns the black Buick coupe with license No. 18 H 170 has the doubtful honor of being the first to receive an overtime parking ticket after Ocean Avenue from Mission to Lincoln was signed for two-hour parking Wednesday. Twelve other victims received tickets on the first day, Chief of Police Roy Fraties reports, but on the whole, the citizenry are catching on quickly to the fact that the limit is now on and it will cost them $2.00 to leave their cars for more than two hours in any one spot in the area so far signed. More signs will be available by the end of the week so that Monday will see Ocean signed as far as Monte Verde, and possibly both sides of San Carlos.

A traffic court has been set up in the police department, where minor traffic violations are handled, but drunk driving, speeding, and other lethal activities are still in the province of City Judge George P. Ross.

A new patrolman, Verdine J. Herdine, who served as an Army M. P. in this area during the war, went to work for the police department this week. A visitor in the chief's office Wednesday was former Police Officer Harry Huntington, who has just returned from three months' civilian police duty on Guam.

1947 Recreation Program

The Carmel Unified School District Summer Recreation Program gets under way Monday, June 23, with music: orchestra from 9 to 12, John Farr, instructor. The same group will meet again on Thursdays. Tuesdays and Fridays from 9 to 12 have been set aside for band, also under John Farr. Wednesday morning will be devoted to mixed chorus, while beginning instruction in band and orchestra instruments will be given Monday through Friday from 11 to 12 a. m. Thus the 1947 recreation program opens with emphasis in a new quarter, cultural development.

Of course there will be swimming, tennis, softball, basketball, badminton, playground games, with puppet shows, 'teen age dances — "play activities" and sports for all ages—as usual, but the youngsters who would like to end the summer with a sense of accomplishment as well as a memory of many hours of enjoyment, will have the opportunity to do so by joining one of the music groups.

Another innovation to the program is a course in creative dance under the direction of Ruth Allerhand, which will be available to college age dance enthusiasts as well as those of high school and elementary grade level. Classes will be held from 1:30 to 3:30 on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

For the first time adults are to have entree to the swimming classes. From 2 to 4 on Monday they may join the high school and college age groups in Howden pool. Other age groups will meet for swimming instruction throughout the week. (See complete program printed below. Adult softball, which proved highly popular last year, will be continued this season on the lighted field with games scheduled for every evening of the week except Monday when the kids, 10 to 15, get their innings.

The program received final approval last night at a meeting of the recreation committee made up of Mrs. Thomas Elston, Allen Knight, Evelyn Nidever Hildebrand, Leo Harris, Cliff Cook, and George Mosolf.

Mosolf, as recreational director, has for assistants, Carol and Laurel Del Hildebrand, puppet shows; Evelyn Nidever Hildebrand, story hour; Jim Blee, Sunset playground; Leo Kohler, tennis instruction and tournament management; Ruth Allerhand, creative dancing; John Farr, music; Howard Byrne, swimming; Ted Fehring, badminton; John Westover, basketball; Mosolf will supervise some of the swimming groups and have charge of the softball program. A girls' playground director is yet to be selected.

Also up for hearing is the petition of Richard B. Langner for a special permit to construct a private garage eight feet from the front line of his lot next to the Forest Hill School. The ordinance requires a set back of 15 feet, but it has been the policy of the city council, where the slope of the land is severe, making egress to the property difficult, to grant exceptions up to eight feet.

After the singing of America, Rev. Secombe will close the ceremony with a benediction, and the high school orchestra will play the march from Mendelssohn's Athalia for the recessional. An informal reception in the patio to follow will enable the graduates to accept congratulations from their parents and friends.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

The Board of Trustees of the Carmel Unified School District will meet Tuesday evening, June 17, in the board room at the high school. The meeting, officially set for the second Tuesday of each month, was postponed a week so as not to occur during the school term closing activities of this week.

TEA FOR GRADUATES

Sue Dekker entertained the high school graduating class at a tea Saturday afternoon at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. N. Dekker. In the evening Sue celebrated her birthday.

BALLET COURSE

Alexander Oumansky, once from Moscow but more recently from Portland, Oregon, where he is on the faculty of the Lewis and Clark College, is in Carmel preparing to open a six weeks' master course in ballet at the Green Room behind the Playhouse beginning June 16. From the eight schools where Mr. Oumansky has been giving lessons in ballet he has selected his most advanced students for this intensive course, and it is his intention to conduct a dance conference of this kind in Carmel annually.

Those who complete this series will have a repertoire of 12 acts such as Waltz of the Flowers, Pipes of Pan, Dutch Dance, Hat Box Polka, Glow-Worm, Romany Life, etc. Before leaving Carmel Mr. Oumansky will give a two weeks' course to children from kindergarten to high school ages, in his search for talent. He was originally a member of the famous Diaghileff Russian Ballet which toured this country with Nijinsky, and he has been a solo dancer in many famous productions since that time.

slight cases of mal de mer, but nobody missed the call for chow. At the next cruise it is planned to have a tow-target for rifle practice.

This evening at the Del Monte Navy School there will be a marching drill from 7:10 until dark, and at the later meeting plans will be made to secure uniforms and equipment in time for the Fourth of July parade.

X X X

In spite of the meager facilities now at the command of the Monterey school board, the newly authorized junior college will be inaugurated this fall, and Superintendent Glen T. Goodwill estimates that over a hundred students will enroll. Classes will be held afternoons, evenings and on Saturdays in any rooms available, until the building program can be completed. Funds for construction, in the amount of $985,000, were voted this spring in a bond election, and the increase in the tax rate for the raising of the money will be partially offset by cancellation of the appropriation heretofore required as assistance to the Salinas junior college. Many of the Monterey adult school classes will be placed under the junior college administration, and this is of interest to teachers who have previously been required to travel elsewhere in order to take required courses for the renewal of their teaching certificates. The school board expects eventually to establish a state college at Monterey.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press, just phone Carmel 1.

40 Receive Certificates In Colorful Fiesta Of Fashion At Sunset School

Yesterday at 1:00 o'clock in the Sunset Auditorium the promotion ceremony for the seventh graders was held in the form of a Fiesta of Fashion, a culmination of the Latin-American friendship project conducted during the semester by Mrs. Sylvia Jordan. It was one of the most colorful and tasteful ceremonies ever held at Sunset. After the salute to the flag, costumes representing the Latin American countries were modeled as follows:

Janet McFail, Peru; Doris Konrad and Carol Timbers, Tehuantepec; Nancy Krupocki, Guatemala; Beverly Krill, Cuba Spanish Waltz; Susan McCloud, Aruacanian, Chile; Carroll Ried and Allene Knight, mother and daughter, Michoacan, Mexico; Pat Westcott, Bolivia; Joyce Morris, Pollera, Panama; Julia Graves, Xochimilco, Mexico; Betty Jean DeAmaral, Cuba, rhumba with Gregor Wilkinson; Allene Petty, Mexico; Sibyl Kocher, San Blas Indian; Collette Ferguson, Mexico (modern); Janet Huffman, Argentine; John Molteni, Mexican Indian; Paula Schneeberger, Brazil; Nancy Bacon, El Salvador; Margot Claypoole, Carioca (modern); John De Amaral, Mexican Indian.

Skipper Lloyd was the narrator who helped the audience focus upon the fiesta pattern as the individuals appeared.

The boys' chorus supplied the musical background with South of the Border, Over the Waves, Cielito Lindo, La Cucaracha, Begin the Beguine, and A Rainy Night in Rio. Leslie King and Douglass Smith gave a duet, Amapola, and Richard Yementes a solo, My Adobe Hacienda, and Walt Shaw also gave a solo, Linda. Principal Arthur C. Hull presented the Class of 1947, and Chairman of the Board of Trustees Harold Nielsen awarded promotion certificates to:

Nancy Bacon, Tim Cass, Margot Claypoole, Betty Jean DeAmaral, Stewart Emery, Collette Ferguson, Julia Graves, Barry Hammer, Peter Hatton, Kim Hollins, Lee

Holmes, Janet Huffman, Leslie King, Allene Knight, Sibyl Kocher, Doris Konrad, Beverly Krill, Nancy Krupocki, Skipper Lloyd, Susan McCloud, Janet McFail, Del Meyer, John Molteni, Joyce Morris, Gilbert Neill, Henry Overin, Carro Reid, Allene Petty, Jonathan Rigdon, Paula Schneeberger, Walt Shaw, Douglass Smith, Carol Timbers, Mansfield Turney, Kurt von Meier, Pat Westcott, Wesley Wiley, Gregor Wilkinson, and Richard Yementes.

At the close of the ceremony the gaily costumed students held a reception in the library for their parents and friends.

Authentic Celtic Instruments Used For Ojai McBeth

The Ojai Festivals, Ltd., will present Macbeth at the Golden Bough Playhouse on Sunday afternoon, June 15, at 2:30, and Monday evening, June 16, at 8:30, in co-operation with Edward Kuster. Early Celtic music, by Mechthild Johansen and seven other musicians, will underline the various moods of the 16 scenes into which Director Alan Harkness has adapted the play. Commencing with a set of Burmese gongs, the list of instruments used includes a house organ, glockenspiel, drums, xylophone, casagettes, hummer, drainage-plunger, piccolo, flute, recorder, cowhorn, and bagpipes.

The costumes are based on me-

Red Cross Staff Assistants Needed At Ord Hospital

Mrs. Robinson Jeffers, chairman of staff assistants of the Carmel Chapter of the Red Cross, is sending out an urgent appeal to her old corps of staff assistants to renew their work at Fort Ord. Owing to the influx of men from Camp Lewis there is increased service to be given to the patients at Fort Ord hospital.

Will all old staff assistants who are still living in the community please get in touch with Mrs. Jeffers as soon as possible.

Mrs. Rush Wallace, co-ordinator of services to camp and hospital, continues to urge gifts of "funnies" and pocket book mystery books, to be left at Red Cross headquarters, Dolores and Seventh streets. Mrs. Wallace also requests the donation of an electric iron.

diaeval sculptured figures on the Strasburg Cathedral. Lady Macbeth, who makes her first appearance in a flaming orange robe, has four changes of costume. This part will be taken by Iris Tree at the Sunday afternoon performance, and by Erika Chambliss from Vienna on Monday evening.

Sam Schatz will be seen in five different roles: Duncan, a gentle old man; the drunken porter who gives comic relief; a witch with cackling voice; the doctor in the sleepwalking scene; and also the third murderer. Sam Schatz studied at the University of California along with Barry Nelson and Gregory Peck, before going to England to join the Michael Chekhov Group.

This group is now located in the Ojai Valley, with a workshop known as the High Valley Theatre. They have recently presented Dickens' Cricket on the Hearth.

GUESS what part of your cost-of-living dollar goes for GAS and ELECTRICITY

Relative Importance of the Major Groups of Items priced for the San Francisco Consumers' Index as of December 15, 1946.

|---------------------------------|------------|
| All Items . . . | 100 cents |
| Food | 44.7 cents |
| Clothing . . . | 12.4 cents |
| Rent | 11.5 cents |
| House furnishings . | 3.7 cents |
| Miscellaneous | 25.6 cents |
| * Fuel, Electricity and Ice . . | 2.1 cents |

That is a good question and you should know the answer. It is only a small part of each dollar you pay out to run your home and feed and clothe your family.

And the reason is that gas and electricity are among the very few cost-of-living items you still buy today at way below pre-war prices. (Since 1939 the cost of electricity has gone down 16% and the cost of gas has gone down 33%).

The chart to the left, which is based on an official government report from the Bureau of Labor Statistics, shows that the costs of gas and electricity are mere fractions of each dollar you spend to maintain home and family.

Gas and Electricity are the outstanding bargains in the home today!

PINE CONE SOFTBALL SCHEDULE

PRACTICE SCHEDULE FOR ADULT SUMMER LEAGUE

Monday, June 16—Firemen—7:30 p. m.

Tuesday, June 17—Police—7:30 p. m.

Thursday, June 19—Legion—7:30 p. m.

Friday, June 20—Lions Club—7:30 p. m.

The High School Faculty figures that perfection is good enough. Managers of the above teams may schedule games on their practice nights if they so desire.

SUNNYVALE TAVERN HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

Tomorrow night at Sunset Field the strong Sunnyvale Tavern softball nine will tangle with The Pine Cone club in a contest which should present some first class competition. The Tavern team is entered in the strong San Jose City League and boasts a hurler who has averaged 18 strikeouts per game during this season. The Pine Cone will counter the great San Jose hurler with Ky Miyamoto who has a strikeout average of 15 per game. Game time will be 8 p. m. Wise fans will be on hand early as a capacity crowd is indicated.

PINE CONE BACK ON BEAM; TRIM SPRECKELS, 7-3

On the windswept Spreckels softball diamond last Monday night the Carmel Pine Cone softballers emerged from their four game losing streak to lash the Honeydews by a 4 run margin. The Honeydews presented a well-balanced ball club, but the Pine Cone had on their hitting togs and combed the offerings of the Spreckels pitchers for 10 solid blows. Jim Kelsey, who has been emulating Joe Dimaggio's latest hitting streak, connected for 3 safeties in 4 attempts to share slugging honors with Willard Branson, who also garnered 3 for 4, one going for a triple.

Ky Miyamoto toed the slab for the locals and sent an even dozen of the Sugar Boys back to the bench via the strikeout route. Ky had a no-hitter until the 6th inning when two Spreckels hits and a couple of walks tallied 3 markers.

The Pine Cone scored two runs in the second frame on two walks and a rousing triple by Willard Branson. In a big fourth inning the Pine Cone tallied 4 markers on 4 base knocks. Jack Giles started the rally with a double down the third base line which was followed by Branson's single to the same spot. Gordy Miyamoto sent a screaming double into right field and Jim Kelsey connected for his third hit to drive in 2 tallies.

Next Wednesday night at Sunset Field the locals will play host to the Honeydews under conditions (we hope) which will be more conducive to good softball. Game time will be 8 p. m.

NINE GAMES ON PADRE GRID SCHEDULE FOR 1947

An ambitious football schedule has been outlined for the Carmel High School Padres when they return to school in the fall. They will open their season on September 19 against the Monterey Junior Varsity eleven, and will close the season on November 21 at Menlo. There will be a bye in the middle of the season to give the players a rest before the stretch run. Four games will be played at home and five on the road.

Schedule follows:

Friday, Sept. 19—Monterey J. V. at Carmel, 3 p. m.

Friday, Sept. 26—Gustine at Carmel, 2:30 p. m.

Friday, Oct. 10—Pacific Grove at Pacific Grove, 8 p. m.

Saturday, Oct. 18—San Jose Tech at Carmel, 2:30 p. m.

October 25—Bye.

Saturday, Nov. 1—King City at King City, 2:30 p. m.

Friday, Nov. 7—Gilroy at Gilroy, 6:30 p. m. (Limited and Varsity.)

Saturday, Nov. 15—Gonzales at Carmel, 2:30 p. m.

Saturday, Nov. 21—Menlo at Menlo, 2 p. m.

A six game limited schedule will be drawn up in the fall.

THE amount of water wasted in a year in a community such as ours is really scandalous, and leaky fixtures (taps and toilets) are one of the principal reasons for it.

A leaky faucet will get away with at least ten gallons a day, by the drip, drip method -- the kind of slow drip that drives you crazy when you hear it smack the sink. And a faucet that leaks with a steady stream will waste as much as 500 gallons of water in twenty-four hours.

Leaky taps not only waste water but tap holes in household budgets, too. Our advice is, "Look for leaks and stop paying for water you don't use." It's a good idea to have your plumber check your taps and other fixtures now and then and repair them if they need it, if you don't want to bother with the job yourself.

tion League Monday night. The Carmel lads played creditable ball in the field and hustled in a manner which should produce them some wins before the league is finished. Rasmussens is touted as the strongest club in the league and should repeat their championship performance of last year. The veteran, Bob Beach, was on the mound for the Beachs and limited the local kids to 3 scattered blows.

Bob DeAmaral started on the mound for the Boys Club and breezed through the first inning with little difficulty. However, in the second frame his difficulty started when the Sports Shop boys tallied 5 markers on 2 walks and 4 hits. Bob Bell relieved DeAmaral in the second inning and struck out the side to put out the fire. Bell pitched good ball for the rest of the contest and kept the Rasmussen swingers pretty well in hand.

The Boys Club tallied their run in the seventh inning when George DeAmaral singled, stole second, and scored on a fielders choice. Bob Bell and Bob DeAmaral were the only other Clubbers to touch Beach for safe pokes.

Hi Chatter

By MARY GREGORY

This is it—the very last day of school. Books are turned in, lockers cleaned out, and grades have been issued. Tonight the seniors are being graduated; when they file out, diploma in hand, we shall finally realize that school is over. To those who will be back next year it may be just the close of another year, but to us who are being graduated it is the end of a lot of wonderful times.

We shall remember mostly the little things—how dark and gray the corridors were in the early morning light in winter, how friendly a sunny day could be, with everyone sprawled on the lawn; the incessant last minute rush to try to get to class on time, and the way books would disappear in the locker whenever we had the very least time to look for them; the inevitable red tape of the office, and the hundred and one different forms; the mad dash for the lunch line, and the heel-toe run we all acquired; the class meetings, where we had a whole hour for deviltry; the fun we had with all the faculty.

We shall remember football, basketball, baseball, and track. And the fun of the many after-the-game dances, when everyone was proud of our performance, win or lose.

This year's Winter Ball, held in the cafeteria and attended by over 100 students, was probably the nicest Winter Ball ever, and the Junior-Senior Prom at the Country Club will be remembered equally well. The Senior Ball this year, held in the library, was small but nice, and enjoyed by all who attended.

This year there was a renewed interest in intramural sports; the boys and especially the girls had full and varied programs.

And there were many assemblies this year of entertaining or enlightening value.

The student council, too, accomplished much both semesters.

So today marks the close of an eventful year. There were more clubs on the campus than ever before, and more activities for all of us. A list of all the activities of all the clubs would go on ad infinitum but all were successful and well-enjoyed.

Something to help us always remember these marvelous days is our yearbook; the issuance of El Padre this week makes a whole review available to us. Congratulations to Editor Sue Dekker, who worked untiringly and often without help to make these books the masterpieces they are this year.

And congratulations to all of us who have finally come to the end of another school year (despite the times we've doubted we would ever make it) to find ourselves at the beginning of many new adventures with only memories and a little more knowledge left to us from the past year.

HAY RIDE AND BARBECUE

David Hudson of Point Lobos, who is graduating tonight at the high school, invited about twenty members of the class for a barbecue up Big Sur. The group went out on hay trucks, and it was all very gay.

Alma Trio Has Progressed Greatly

BY MARJORIE L. WURZMANN

The Carmel Music Society could hardly have chosen a happier ending to its season this year than the memorable performance given last Saturday at Sunset Auditorium by the Alma Trio, a gift of the generous patron of the society, the late Mrs. Mary Blanchard.

The Alma Trio, under the dynamic and inspiring leadership of the pianist, Adolf Baller, has progressed far in the years since its initiation; and for some of us who had the privilege of previously hearing, in a smaller circle, the three superb musicians, including Gabor Rejto, cellist, and Roman Totenberg, violinist, it was a pleasure to realize how greatly they have grown into the finely co-ordinated instrumental unit they represent today.

Their playing is characterized by a freshness and vigor of attack that gives their performance un-failing vitality, and by a power of evoking through the richness and variety of tonal textures, a wonderful wealth of musical imagery.

These qualities were markedly manifest in the opening performance of Brahms B major Trio-opus 8, a composition almost symphonic in its proportions, and undeniably one of the composer's greatest chamber music works. Here Brahms reaches a climax in the marvelous dexterity with which he handles the three instruments and exploits their utmost possibilities. The monumental first movement, with its great sweep of line and its tremendous force of emotional impact, was—with the exception of moments when the piano drowned out the string instruments—rendered with magnificent conviction and a moving grandeur of conception. In contrast to this, one will not easily forget the profoundly contemplative spirit which prevailed throughout the heavenly adagio, introduced by the descending progression of unearthly chords on the piano. In this movement Brahms seems to enter and explore those other worldly realms of consciousness, the depths of which Beethoven sounded in his last chamber music works.

In the variations of a Mozart theme in E flat for Cello and Piano by Beethoven, Gabor Rejto and Baller exhibited with impressive authority their equally fine and sensitive musical understanding. The smoothly singing and sonorous cello tone of Rejto was sometimes a little overshadowed by the piano; but the exquisite phrasing, and the expressive beauty of melodic line which marked their ensemble playing, compensated for this slight defect.

Schubert's Rondo Brilliant, opus 70, for violin and piano provided Roman Totenberg a splendid opportunity to reveal his disciplined virtuosity and his interpretive artistry. A singular distinction of style was felt in his playing and a fine feeling for the lyric content of Schubert's music was conveyed. Ravel's Trio in A major was, probably with the Brahms, the highlight of the program. The strangely beautiful abstraction of mood which characterizes so much of Ravel's music, and which this work so magically exemplifies, was sustained with unbroken continuity by the Alma Trio through its four movements. The detached and elusive quality of the first movement with its subtle syncopated rhythms and curiously evocative harmonic intervals, established the prevailing mood of pure enchantment. The slow Passacaille was played with incomparable feeling for its poetic message and its fugitive overtones, and in the two animated movements the musicians revealed all the flashing gems of Ravel's polished wit, and the play of his satiric musical humor.

The warm and prolonged applause of the audience was rewarded by an encore, the lively and brilliantly performed Scherzo from Mendelssohn's Trio in E minor.

Prizes Awarded At Junipero Serra School Commencement

The school year for Junipero Serra School of Carmel was formally brought to a close on Sunday afternoon, June 8, in the Carmel Mission. The four graduates, Barbara Horne, John Fortier, Ronald Doolittle, and Theodore Brand were awarded their diplomas by Rev. Michael D. O'Connell. The Christian Doctrine medal was merited by Diana Horne of the seventh grade, while her sister, Barbara Horne, received the medal for Conduct and Citizenship. These gold medals were donated by Mr. and Mrs. John B. Cooper of Carmel Valley. Theodore Brand won honorable mention for Scholarship. The Shrine prizes, previously assigned to Eugene McFarland, John Gottfried, Paul Neumann, and James Millott were presented at this time. On Friday, Barbara Horne and Michael Stanton were given Order awards.

Following the awarding of prizes, Fr. O'Connell addressed the graduates, and then gave Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. The school choir sang the traditional hymns, O Salutaris, Tantum Ergo, and Holy God. Mrs. Joseph McCloskey was at the organ.

Hypnotism Today by Leslie M. LeCron and Jean Bordeaux. Grune & Stratton. Pp. 277. $4.

Hypnotism, the orphan of medicine, has suffered the fate of other orphans. It experienced periods of ignorance, ridicule, abuse, neglect and adoption by the wrong people. Today, reputable psychologists and psychiatrists are raising this medical waif to the dignity of a mature therapeutic associate.

It all began over two thousand years ago when Hippocrates, the father of medicine, laid down the dictum that all disease was of organic origin. Yet the early Greeks made regular pilgrimages to the temple of Aesculapius, God of Medicine, where the sick were cured by suggestion while in a hypnotic trance.

An Egyptian papyrus three thousand years old gives correct hypnotic procedure for the "sleep temples." The priests of all ancient races knew the value of hypnotism but surrounded it with a mystical, supernatural and occult aura. From earliest times to our own, the basis of all "faith" healing is hypnotism.

Unfortunately, the disdainful attitude of physicians drove hypnotism into the hands of charlatans and showmen. The average person's idea of a hypnotist is a sinister, gaunt individual with piercing eyes like Rasputin or Svengali.

It would be well to refute a few of the misconceptions and half-truths regarding hypnotism. Hypnotism does not "weaken one's will" or do any damage to the brain or any other part of the body. The current belief that it takes a "weak mind" to yield to hypnotism is disproved by the fact that the feeble-minded, the idiotic and the insane cannot be hypnotized.

Another popular belief is that neurotics are easily susceptible to hypnotism. While hypnotism is a valuable aid in all neuroses, it is often difficult to hypnotize a neurotic because his mind wanders.

Whether in a light trance such as the spiritualist medium's autohypnosis to a deep somnambulistic sleep, the subject cannot be forced to commit an act that is contrary to his moral or ethical code. Nor can a hypnotist recall a talent you do not possess. It's a shame to debunk George du Maurier's fantastic novel, but to make a Trilby sing like Jennie Lind under hypnotic control—Svengali or no Svengali—is an utter impossibility.

The authors of this masterly little volume, though not medical men, are well-trained psychologists and psychotherapists. They cover the whole subject of hypnotism from antiquity to modern times. Their approach is strictly scientific and they recommend that the hypnotist should be a consultant to the psychiatrist and general medical practitioner.

They insist that hypnotism or hypnotherapy is a valuable therapeutic agent, but should be used only under medical supervision. While they appreciate its value in most cases of psychological imbalance, they do not consider it a cure-all. They stress the importance of a correct diagnosis as a starting point and realize the limitations of hypnotherapy in certain organic conditions.

It is a far cry from the Hippocratic maxim of organic disease to the modern conception that at least fifty percent of all diseases are psychosomatic—that is, that the mind is responsible for many physical disorders. The term mind, exclusive of such intangibles as the conscious and subconscious mind, includes proper responses and stimuli to the autonomous or automatic nervous system and an intelligent consideration of its environment. Consequently, it is not enough to dispel illusions and obsessions and remove memory blocks under hypnosis but, as the authors put it, "re-educate the patient to adjust to reality and life."

"Environment, childhood training, mental conflicts, repressions, and all the elements enter-

VALLEY MEN

*I saw the valley town coming toward me;
looked and saw ground go back;
saw sun move horizon—
move the line between land and sky.
Then I saw the church in the valley—church with a cross for its steeple—steeple a cross in the heavens—crucifix between a cross of stars.*

*Then I saw valley people walking toward the tolled bell.
Where they walked damp ground gave,
as if to swallow them step by step.
They were neither laughing nor talking but looking at the cross of stars—at the church with its crucifix steeple—toward bell-sound in the dusk.*

*Then I saw woven circles—circles of flowers—of men.
Then the cross on deep-scarred earth—
on the ground—cross of men!
Beneath the cross in the heavens;
beneath a cross of stars valley men stood in the church yard giving back to their own the returned.*

—FRONA LANE

OIL WELL

*It's a tall, tall tower in a sand-whipped plain,
That rises, like a spire, on level ground,
Above a slanted hole that eats a channel through the rock,
Where a two-blade tool is cutting, turning round.*

*And while it thrusts a nose through the stiff brown shale,
The revolutions quicken with the pound
Of an engine pumping mud to clear the long-drawn pipe,
To the driven beat of self-repeating sound.*

*White naked lights swing upward, where the tall tower stands,
Flared spots of sun against a sky turned gray.
To burn high into blackness, on the march that never stops,
With a deep-holed drill that knows no night or day.*

*A glory, wild and strong, is in the steel-flashed power
That spars with stone in this titanic play;
With a longing for old joy in the sound and the sight,
Down a wagon-track of road I make my way,*

*To stand, throat taut with wonder, at the edge of town,
And watch them turn the lights on, when the sun goes down.*

—JEANNETTE H. YEATMAN.

MUSIC OF SUN

*Petal-life and wizard-color
From still stone and still earth;
What spirits hover and contrive
This red bloom to come alive?
Who waves the wind-wand
And music of sun
Over dull clod
To bring forth fern-frond,
Emerald wing and myrtle,
Born of slow sod.*

Days Before Yesterday

Evidently it is through no accident that Carmel has held its individuality through all the years of world change. There have always been tests of the city council's judgment, and the files of The Pine Cone reveal many of them. The following touching paragraph appears in the June 8, 1922, issue:

"Perry L. McDonald petitioned the board for the privilege of blowing a steam whistle at 12 o'clock noon, the same to be made musical as a fairy chime—a cross between the sighing of the trees in a December gale and the sobbing sound of the sea—but Perry Newberry (president) arose to the occasion and in impassioned accents plead for the peace and content of that portion of Carmel who had fled from whistles and maddening crowds and trolley cars. 'Why keep account of time in Carmel?' said Perry. 'People come here to get away from it.' Petition denied."

Through subsequent years many other temptations of folly were presented to the city fathers, and in the November 6, 1931, issue an entirely new kind of suggestion was reported:

"Clothes? No, not when the depression is on. Instead, form a nudists' colony."

"At least that appeared as the naked truth in a letter read before the city council Wednesday evening, in which permission is sought to establish headquarters in a large wooded tract in some section of the village. . . . When the letter was read members of the city council smiled, sighed and finally in utter astonishment the rest of the letter was read in a low whisper."

"The letter . . . was from international branch No. 12, Society of the Sun. It claims that 13 members are now operating not far from the Carmel hospital but are seeking a five-year lease in the wooded portion of Carmel. The property will be guarded by an eight-foot stone wall."

"City Attorney Argyll Campbell voiced his opinion that as long as the women remained indoors and did not expose themselves to public view, there was no crime committed and consequently there need be no police interference. No further action was taken in the matter, pending developments. Campbell was asked to make an investigation and report to Mayor Herbert Heron."

A week later The Pine Cone published an effusion from Theodora Gay Flanner in charming couplets, exhorting the artists in Carmel to ponder well the fate of their village if such a cult should invade the wood. She argued that even though the cult might be extremely pure, yet could the community's respectability actually be secure if the worship of the sun should be condoned?

At the same time an editorial bemoaned the abuses of this rumor which had been appearing in San Francisco papers. "For Carmel is of interest to all Americans in that it has stepped out on a different pathway from the standardized trail, and is attempting to build along original lines. . . . People are watching our progress. Many are ready to laugh at us, more will smile graciously, a few will be saddened as we take a mis-step. To the newspapers in thousands of communities goes the news of our local adventure. The report of the city planning commission last month was published in the New York Herald-Tribune and in more than two thousand newspapers serviced by the United Press. The anti-neon-sign ordinance had almost as wide a circulation. Unfortunately, stories of the nudist colony and of a chamber of commerce organization probably had the same publicity."

The editor was not alone in deploring any reason for giving a wrong impression about Carmel, for all the residents seemed to be in tacit collaboration to discourage publicity regarding their experiment to build an ideal community. Every time a member of the council has been elected, the point that influenced the votes has always been a candidate's capacity to preserve the way of life set as a standard by the founders of the village.

Gordon Ewig Coming

Gordon Ewig and his wife are coming home for the summer and will be with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ewig. Gordon has been attending the Stanford graduate business school at Palo Alto and while here will assist Richard Collins as boys' counsellor in the Douglas summer school camp, picking up the boys and supervising their activities for ten weeks, beginning June 18. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hull have taken the Ewig house in Palo Alto as Mr. Hull is going to take summer work at Stanford.

Musical

Saturday friends and parents gathered to enjoy an informal afternoon of piano music by Gloria Neumann, Harris Irvine, Joy Westcott and Leslie Doolittle, students of Mrs. Jesusa Guidi Fremont. Leslie has distinguished himself this year by mastering the Haydn D Major piano concerto. He is accompanied by Catherine Winslow, who recently played in the Musical Arts student recital with outstanding success.

Dr. Stewart Here

Dr. George Stewart, author of Storm, East of the Giants, and other novels, and his family will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Zenas Potter over the weekend. Lady Emily Coote is staying with them at present.

ing into neurotic disturbances may be concerned in psychosomatic disease. The heart, skin, the digestive organs, the glandular system and the respiratory tract all may reflect conflict and become the seat of neurotic symptoms. This is true of any part of the body which is susceptible to emotional effects."

Hypnotherapy is highly effective in such psychosomatic conditions as insomnia, stuttering, tics, alcoholism, migraine headaches, skin diseases, allergies, bronchial asthma, muscular pains, sex problems, gynecology and obstetrics and mental hygiene in children.

While the authors occasionally disagree with Freud, they regard hypnoanalysis as a short cut to emotional and mental upsets. Its advantage over conventional psychoanalysis is in the saving of time and money. Protracted psychoanalytic treatment is not only expensive but drifts into a tedious ritual of mental catharsis.

The book will appeal to all intelligent laymen and doctors. It cites many interesting case-histories of actual cures and in a fascinating manner elevates hypnotism from a showman's trick to a physician's tool. Medical remedies run in cycles and it appears that hypnotism is about to ride the wave of medical popularity. This being the case, this book will enable the layman to co-operate fully with his physician and hypnotist.

Administrators Honored

Superintendent of Schools, Leo Harris and Mrs. Harris shared honors with Dr. Leon Minear, boys' vice-principal and organizer of our new Symphony, and Mrs. Minear, at a farewell tea given by Mrs. Grace Howden Sunday afternoon at her Carmel Woods home. The Harrises will leave soon for Eugene, Oregon, where Mr. Harris will be director of athletics for the University of Oregon. The Minears will go to Denver, Colorado, where Dr. Minear will be professor of education at the University and assistant director of the Junior College. Members of the Carmel Unified School District Board, local administrators, and other friends of the two families were present. Mrs. Clarence Postelwaite and Mrs. Gwendolyn Ruge presided at the tea table, and were assisted by the Misses Margaret Lea, Dorothy Wright, and Lorraine Harris. Miss Jean Stanbridge, soloist with the Symphony at their recent Carmel debut, entertained with piano solos by Debussy and Chopin.

Busy Mrs. Hooper

Mrs. Joseph G. Hooper has been occupied this week with guests, graduation and entertaining for visitors. Last week, with Mrs. William Heathorne, she gave a grudge party for Miss Ella Von Horne. Her house guests are her granddaughter, Mrs. William Chapman of San Francisco, and children, Corey and Ursula, and Mrs. Fred H. Moore, also of San Francisco. Tuesday, Mrs. Hooper went up to Burlingame and from there goes to Ross, Marin County, where her granddaughter, Polly Kennedy, will graduate from the Katherine Branson school.

Double Christening

Gwen McEwen, five months-old daughter of Arthur and Mary Lloyd McEwen, and Nancy Anne, daughter of John and Nancy Mapa, all of Carmel, went to San Francisco, where the babies were christened in a double ceremony at St. Luke's Episcopal Church, June 8, by the Right Reverend Edward Lambe Parsons. Both of the mothers of the babies had been christened by Bishop Parsons and he had officiated at the weddings of the maternal grandparents. Godparents of Gwen McEwen were Kenneth K. Jones of Carmel, Mrs. Leslie Mills who came from New York for the christening, Mrs. J. Hubert Mee and Dr. DeWitt Burnham. Arthur and Mary Lloyd stood as godparents of Nancy Anne Mapa.

Youth Fellowship

Last Sunday night's surprise at the Youth Fellowship meeting proved to be a well conducted worship service, held in the sanctuary. Solos were sung by Becky Bell and Barbara Stoney. Others participating were Ben Viljoen, Joy Wescott and Landis Crosby. Next Sunday at 6 p. m. Group 2, led by Captain Carroll Briggs will hold another surprise "Come and find us." All high school and college age youth are cordially invited to all these meetings. Following the meeting Sunday there will be a party at the home of Becky Bell.

Quite A Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Wood returned Tuesday from their trip to the Shriner's Convention in Atlantic City. Malcolm Wood was the only Carmel Shriner on the twenty-three car train that left San Francisco, May 20. After the convention was over, the Woods went to Washington, D. C., New York, Boston, and on up into Canada, where they visited Montreal and Quebec, returning West by the Canadian Pacific.

Shriners Dance

First of the pre-circus dinner dances will be given by the Monterey Shrine Club at the Mission Ranch, Saturday night. Dinner, dancing and a program featuring the Harold Westwood Puppeteers. Songs by Ruth Holm and Hoyt Youngblood, impersonator, will be provided by the committee, of which Malcolm Wood of Carmel is a member. Carmel Shriners whom the committee hope will be among those present are Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Santee, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Heisinger, Col. and Mrs. Harrie Hoxie, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Herron, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Perkins, and Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Wood.

To Make Carmel Home

Mrs. Alice H. MacMillan of Hinsdale, Illinois, will arrive in Carmel June 21 and will make her home with Mr. and Mrs. C. Edward Graves. Mrs. MacMillan is Mrs. Graves' sister.

Herlihy Summer Plans

Mrs. William J. Herlihy and son, Bill, plan on leaving for an extended tour, a few days after Bill's graduation from Carmel High. En route they will visit Mrs. Herlihy's daughter and son, Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Sandlin, Ardmore, Okla., then to Kansas City, Mo., and on to Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, where Col. Herlihy is stationed. He will join them on their trip to New England. Upon Mrs. Herlihy's return, she will again be at home in Carmel at her Lobos street address, which will be occupied during her absence by Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Kenney.

Mrs. Midkiff In East

Mrs. Phyllis Midkiff is visiting her son Jim, his wife and their little daughter, in Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Returns To Business

Malcolm Moulder, whose articles about his experiences in France have recently appeared in the Pine Cone, has this week become associated with the real estate firm of Preble and Nickle in Monterey. Mr. Moulder was for many years a resident of Carmel before the war and made his home here again immediately upon returning to this country.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Here's to the Women-Folk!

There's a line at the heading of the Woman's Column in my paper that reads:

"Women through the years have stood Keepers of the flame . . ."

Pretty easy to see what it means; whether it's the flame on the hearth, or the candle in the window, or the feeling of warmth that surrounds a home.

It's the women who are guardians of the things we cherish about homelife—who are tolerant of ashes on the rug; the rings a glass of beer can leave on tables; or the comfortable but too-worn chair that we can't bear to throw away.

From where I sit, those little satisfactions become more and more important in this world of strife and change. Smoke rings curling from a mellow pipe; a glass of beer; a comfortable chair before the fire. And I'd like to salute the housewives—"keepers of the flame"—whose tolerance and understanding helps preserve them!

Hospitality at Howden Home

The lovely home of Mrs. Grace Howden on San Mateo Road has been the scene of much activity during the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Lea of Berkeley and their children, Richard and Susanne visited Mrs. Howden and their sister, Miss Margaret Lea.

Mrs. Howden entertained Mrs. James Johnson of the Highlands and the latter's week end guests, Mrs. Maud Fluno and daughter Imogene from Alameda, at tea on Saturday afternoon, May 31. On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. William O. Morgan of Piedmont and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Postelwaite of Carmel enjoyed tea with Mrs. Howden.

Friday evening Miss Margaret Lea entertained the counselling and administrative staff of Salinas Union High School at the Howden home. After a delightful buffet supper the group enjoyed an evening of music and conversation. The affair was held in honor of Vice-principal Henry Knight, who is leaving Salinas to become principal of Petaluma High School. Those present included Mr. Nelson Sewell, principal, and Mrs. Sewell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Evert Lindquist, Mrs. Howden, the Misses Margaret Niesley, Gertrude Waterman, Constance Miller, Evelyn Sharp, Florence Parsons, Margaret Kurtz, and the hostess.

Graduation Banquet

At Douglas School of Pebble Beach last Friday evening parents and friends of the feminine personnel were entertained at a banquet to celebrate the close of the school year and the graduation from high school of Barbara Tomlinson and Joan Logan, at the same time that Peggy Glaser, Marcia Kuster and Dolores Miller graduated from the eighth grade. Rev. Alfred Seccombe gave the commencement address which heretofore has always been given by Samuel F. B. Morse, who is confined to his home as a result of injuries received in a riding accident. Rev. Seccombe chose Decision as his topic, urging the graduates to have the courage to decide the course they must follow in life. Barbara Tomlinson was the master of ceremonies, Joan Logan the valedictorian, and Marcia Kuster read the class prophecy which she had written with unexpected humor. Prizes in horsemanship, riflery and athletics were awarded, and after the guests dispersed the school in a body repaired to the Dienelt ranch in Carmel Valley for further celebration.

20-40 Group

If you are twenty or admit that you are up to forty, the group of young people in Carmel who have banded together to have good times will welcome you. Saturday evening they went up the Carmel River and had a steak barbecue and swim. Herb Blanks was general chairman of the affair, assisted by his wife, Roxie, and by Gene and Marion Scheffer, Jim and Mary Campbell, Ann Uzzell, Ed Hargett and Barney Laiolo. Following the barbecue, there was singing, led by Herb Blanks, around a big bonfire. John Farr sang two numbers and a mixed quartette and girls' chorus were roundly applauded. Seventy-two were present and all are looking forward to the July meeting which is being arranged by Ted Fehring and it is rumored that it will be a hay ride and barn dance.

Hollywood Conference Here

After last Monday's performance of Joan of Lorraine at the Playhouse, all the members of the cast were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kuster.

Incomparable clam chowder and inexhaustible punch replenished the energies displaced during the trial scene which ends the tragic play. Present for purposes of observing the work of Jana Garth, the leading lady, were Jesse Laskey and a couple of his assistants. They had given Miss Garth an opportunity to read for them last week in Hollywood, and now they drew her aside, while the merriment continued, to discuss possibilities of giving her a lead in the new film, Miracle of the Bells. She agreed to report in Hollywood this week for photographic tryouts, and the entire cast went about with crossed fingers for her sake.

Stillwell News

Life in Mrs. Joseph Stilwell's family is anything but static these days. A new grandchild has arrived, Terry Stevens Cox, born to Major and Mrs. W. E. Cox, who are stationed at the Presidio. Mrs. Cox was the former Winifred Stilwell. Mrs. Joseph Stilwell has visitors now and more to come. A nephew, John Barnes, of New York City, is with her, and also her grandson, John Easterbrook, whose parents, Colonel and Mrs. Ernest F. Easterbrook, are stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia. Mrs. Easterbrook (Nancy Stilwell) is arriving later this month with her small daughter, Nancy, to visit her mother. Ben Stilwell will be home for the summer from Stanford. Alison Stilwell has written a book for children that will appear in the fall, illustrated by the gifted author.

Fun At Mission Ranch

"Come—Have Fun at the party given for Warren Keeley," read the invitation, to which three hundred fun-lovers responded by showing up at the Mission Ranch last Friday. There was dancing and a buffet supper. The committee in charge included Mr. and Mrs. Mac Ashton, Mr. and Mrs. Mannie Chappelle, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Diles, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Houseman, Mr. and Mrs. Stafford Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Keeley, Mr. and Mrs. Duke Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Marotta, Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Steele, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Ward, Willard Branson, Nathalie H. Thoburn, John Sayers, and Eveline Diekamper.

Mrs. Duncan Going Away

Mrs. Robert Duncan is leaving the middle of June on a three months' holiday. She will go to Alameda, where she will visit her daughter and her family, and later they are all going to Bass Lake near Yosemite.

Department of Colonels

Colonel and Mrs. James F. Collins left Carmel last August but have a homesick feeling which evidently is shared by other Army people who have been moved out. Mrs. Collins writes from Washington, D. C., that they are keeping in touch with their friends' doings by reading The Pine Cone. Colonel and Mrs. Collins will leave Washington June 21, after Colonel Collins finishes at the National War College, and will visit New York and then go to Portland, Oregon, before the Colonel begins his next assignment as instructor at Fort Leavenworth.

In Special Car to S. F.

Thirty-five Peninsula Rotarians attended the national Rotary convention luncheon at the St. Francis in San Francisco Thursday, among them Mayor Fred Godwin and Corum Jackson of Carmel. Godwin, in charge of arrangements, chartered a railway car, so that the members were able to go to San Francisco on the Del Monte in the morning, returning in the afternoon.

Robison Guests

Miss Lucille Moran of Oakland, Miss Dolores Cipolla of Santa Clara, and Belknap Bates of San Francisco are coming to Carmel for the graduation of Robin Robison when she receives her diploma from the high school. They will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Shelburn Robison.

Luncheon For Priests

Following High Mass at the Mission Wednesday, celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the ordination of the Reverend Father O'Connell, about forty of the visiting clergy of the diocese were entertained at luncheon at the Mission Ranch by Father O'Connell.

Christened on Memorial Day

At the age of three months, the infant son of Edward and Mary Neroda was christened Edward Wellings Neroda on Memorial Day at the Church of the Wayfarer at 3 p. m.

Dr. Frederick L. Farley, dean of the College of the Pacific, officiated at the ceremony, part of which was read from a prayer book sent from England by the maternal grandfather. The beautiful robe worn by the baby, made of fine Indian muslin and Mechlin lace, had been fashioned from the wedding dress of Mrs. Corbin, wife of Professor Charles E. Corbin.

The Godparents, Mrs. Raymond J. Cole and Andrew Donald Neroda, were represented by Mrs. John Hayes and Alan Russel Shurlock. At a reception, held at the home of the parents following the ceremony, christening cake and punch were served.

Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. Frederick L. Farley, Mr. and Mrs. John Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Shurlock, Professor and Mrs. Charles E. Corbin, Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Timbers, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Scheffer, Mr. and Mrs. Durbin Sayers, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walters, Mrs. Vincent Torras, Sr., Mrs. Sumral Otrich, Mrs. Maimie Bigelow, Mrs. A. J. Shardlow, Mrs. Henry F. Jurs, and Dr. Charles N. Pearson.

Popular Visitor

Miss Ella Van Horne of Hollywood is the guest of her cousin, Miss Katherine Van Horne and every day of her two weeks' visit is taken up with some affair given in her honor. Among those who are entertaining her are Mrs. Sophie Baldwin, who asked friends in for bridge. Miss Katherine Van Horne had three tables of bridge Monday. Mrs. L. O. Kellogg entertained at luncheon, up the valley. Mrs. Charles L. DeVault had a dessert bridge last Thursday, and Mrs. Joseph Hooper and Mrs. William Heathorne entertained at bridge.

Molly Kellogg Flies Off

Miss Molly Kellogg left last week by plane, to spend a month with friends in Tacoma.

Comstocks Return

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Comstock, who have been having a vacation in Oregon, returned to Carmel yesterday.

On The Move

Mrs. Julian Tyler (Sue Chapman) and her small son, Julian III, are guests of her mother, Mrs. Green Chapman. Mr. Tyler, who is employed by Standard Oil, has recently been transferred from Oakland to Salinas, where the Tylers are house hunting.

Boy Scouts

Troop 32, with Carl Bensberg riding herd on the boys, will set out for Big Sur Council Camp returning June 22. Big Sur camp serves District 185 and will not be able to accommodate all the boys who are eager to go this year. There will be a Troop Advancement program, swimming instruction with a lifeguard handy, and an opportunity to earn merit badges. Lucky boys from Carmel who are going are Ronnie and Lannie Doolittle, Leslie Doolittle, Merlin Wood, Raymond Danielson, Stanley Fralick, Tommy and Redmond Kernan, Eugene McFarland, Zane Byrd, Sam Robison and Bobbie Osburn.

The gentlemen's shop of DEREK RAYNE on Ocean Avenue offers the following suggestions for the not to be forgotten Father. Manhattan shirts in a white oxford weave or in broadcloth candy stripes are available in a full size range. Men's jewelry in designs that are different—leather stud boxes and wallets that are distinctive and useful. And never forget the two things that brighten a man's life—a good tie and a shoe shine. THE HOUSE OF DEREK RAYNE offers a wide selection of cravats. A super and unusual gift would be one of the shoe shine kits complete with brushes, daubers, polish and polishing cloths. Men really go for these kits.

For Father's Day shoppers—THE VAGABOND'S CORNER in the patio of the Pine Inn! There are beautifully etched highball and liqueur glasses in hunting, riding and golf scenes by Ivan Rudneff. He has also done some attractive cigarette boxes in clear etched plastic. Then there are imported briar pipes by Weber at $5.00, which any pipe-smoking father would welcome, also leather cigarette boxes and stunning high-ball glasses in a golf motif with a wooden carrying tray at $9.00. And the Clothes Line Art Show sponsored by THE VAGABOND'S CORNER offers some very interesting father and son studies. And oh, if you would like to remember Mother, too, there are tropical pins and dress ornaments at very moderate prices—$1.50 to $2.50. Don't forget that THE VAGABOND'S CORNER also has a shop at the Highlands Inn.

HILLYER'S COFFEE SHOP on San Carlos just south of Ocean Avenue has added a new note of charm. Colonel Hillyer has installed a record player which beguiles his guests during the lunch and dinner hours with soft and appropriate music. And in the kitchen Michael Youlden, the head chef, is really displaying his culinary artistry in his cooking of sea foods—choice selections of abalone steaks, fillets of cod, northern halibut and salmon steaks, all cooked in superb sauces, are found on the menu daily. And the COFFEE SHOP is open again on Sundays from 8:00 a. m. to 3 p. m.—really good news for those who appreciate Hillyer's fine breakfasts.

Flash! THE PENINSULA PAINT POT on Fifth street between Mission and San Carlos has their telephone. For signs for your home or business call THE PENINSULA PAINT POT—1684-J.

Imagine a year round California coat for as little as $26.63! MAXINE'S, the distinctive dress shop on Dolores street near Ocean Avenue, offers one-third off on all full length coats. There is a lovely range of colors—winter pink, gray, Kelly green, white, red and brown, in the fabrics you want—including shags and gabardines. For a love of a coat—at a price you will love. MAXINE'S!

"Nothing succeeds like success" may be trite but is really true of the famous Stauffer System at THE STAUFFER STUDIO on Mission street, between Fourth and Fifth, next to the Carmel Booksellers. Getting slim the easy, pleasant way is something to shout about and the Stauffer Tables do just that. If you want to look and feel your best, call Della Vanney at THE STAUFFER STUDIO. The number is 2101-W. Evening treatments may be had by appointment.

Everything you have ever loved about old San Francisco you will find in the exciting new prints at THE CARMEL BOOKSELLERS on Mission street, between Fourth and Fifth. The gingerbread houses and cable cars, charmingly done by Evelyn Curro, are priced as low as $2.50 so that everyone may enjoy them. For an entrancing journey into the world of books and pictures, visit THE CARMEL BOOKSELLERS.

Here is news worthy of note. The famed MONTEREY PENINSULA TOURS have opened a branch office in Carmel. It is located at Sixth and San Carlos adjoining the Union Oil Station and is managed by Bill Fassett. Limousine tours to all points of interest on the Peninsula are offered at very moderate rates. Limousine services for weddings, funerals and parties are also available. But most important is the shuttle transportation service from your door to connect with any regularly scheduled plane or train in Monterey or Salinas. THE MONTEREY PENINSULA TOURS are the official Southern Pacific Taxi Company and a phone call to Carmel 1750 or 1714-R will convince you that the rates are really moderate.

Again THE VILLAGE CORNER next to the Post Office announces another innovation for Carmel. DRY ICE and its accompanying packing containers will keep the nine delicious flavors of ice cream fresh and firm for days. And for picnics and beach parties or for mailing home a mess of trout Dry Ice is the answer.

Curiosity led me to count the number of flavors that THE VILLAGE CORNER has in its sundae counter. There are thirteen of them, including mocha. Nine kinds of ice cream and thirteen flavors. Wish a numerologist would tell us the significance of that combination.

Like the smell of printers ink? Want to see a busy printing shop? A visit to THE PINE CONE'S plant on Dolores street will amaze you with the different kinds of work going on. Personalized stationery, business forms, advertising folders and placards pour out of the presses in a steady stream. Clifford H. Cook is always available for advice and estimates on your printing problem. And if you are too busy for a visit just telephone THE PINE CONE at Carmel 2.

Slips—Slips—Slips. Pink ones, white ones, wide and narrow, long and short at THE STOCKING SHOP in Golden Bough Court on Ocean Avenue across from Pine Inn. Mind climbing the stairs? You won't when you see these famous Jean Vernon slips—sized from 32 to 46, at $3.95 and $4.50. P. S. Do you wear petticoats? There are stunning ones with a delicate net trimmed edge at $3.50.

Probably Walks Under Ladders

Friday, June 13, can you imagine that, Eve Miller will sail for Honolulu, on the Matsonia. Eve has been associated with La Bonita Beauty Shop and a lot of people are going to miss her. She says that her stay in the islands is indefinite, it might be a year and she might just stay.

Good-neighbor policy party-line style

To provide telephone service to more people, there are more party lines in use these days than ever before...and most telephones are busier than ever before. When you share a line with one or more parties, you'll all get the most from your telephone service if you'll remember...

Five Golden Rules for party-line neighbors

- Space your calls instead of making an extended series of them...and talk only as long as necessary.
- If yours is an emergency call, and the line is in use, explain the circumstances to the person using the line.
- If you are calling from a dial telephone, always make certain the line is clear before you dial.
- Ask your youngsters not to monopolize the telephone.
- Replace the receiver properly when you finish your call.

Thank you!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"God the Preserver of Man."
This is the subject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, June 15, with the Golden Text taken from Psalms: "The Lord is my strength and my shield; my heart trusted in him, and I am helped" (28:7).

The following citations are included in the sermon:

Acts: "And, behold, the angel of the Lord came upon him, and a light shined in the prison: and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands" (12:7).

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The footsteps of thought, rising above material standpoints, are slow, and portend a long night to the traveller; but the angels of His presence—the spiritual intuitions that tell us when 'the night is far spent, the day is at hand'—are our guardians in the gloom" (p. 174).

St. John's Chapel Del Monte

The Rev. Theodore Bell
Chaplain

St. John's Chapel is a beautiful little church nestling in a grove of giant oak trees. Men and women from many lands have found it to be a place apart. It may be that you also will find its atmosphere congenial to the spiritual life. The Chapel is open all day long.
Those who seek in its stillness to grow more conscious of God's presence do not go unrewarded.
Sunday services at eight and eleven a.m. The Chapel is close to Hotel Del Monte.

Bob Baker Revisits His Home Town With Diminutive Company

harpsichord. For the sound equipment there were three turntables upon which these professional recordings were played, each record lasting 15 minutes, and the music was thus kept continuous.

To the strains of Stravinsky's Nightingale a Hindu fakir was introduced to perform his magic. He charmed a rope out of the ground and bade it rise into the air, so that a little Hindu boy could climb it and disappear. Long after the rope recoiled itself, the fakir opened a basket on the ground and out popped the little boy. Ports of Call by Ibert accompanied some of this act, and original Hindu music was used to close the scene. Another musical background was used for the ostrich ballet, during which the ostrich egg hatches and a tiny replica of the dancing mother scratches its way out of the shell.

A film soon to be released as a Featurette by Paramount is Bob Baker's Curtain Time. for which he chose Mussorgsky's music. One of the acts shows his famous clowns, especially a rotund fellow who is being pursued by an enemy with a can of Flit. He is deflated gradually until he disappears completely as a result of the onslaught. Then the happy clowns cavort, sprinkling the ground, watching the flowers spring up and bloom in brilliant colors. A tiny puppet is also watered gracefully, and as a result she grows up—to the extent of taking on the responsibility of a corset to prove her maturity. The finale of this is the lowering from the ceiling of five butterfly girls spinning, color wheels going around, lighting effects reaching a crescendo, to the accompaniment of Rosencavalier.
"They laughed when I decided to use classical music for a puppet show," said Bob Baker—but evidently they remained to fall under the spell of the coordination of a score of magic techniques, for Bob is now signing contracts to exhibit in various cities.

He took the opportunity to come through this old home town of his while on his way to put on an animated window display in one of the big department stores in San Francisco. —Glenn Clairmonte.

Cupid Again

At a dinner given at Rio del Mar on June 10 Miss Lois Scholten announced her engagement to Kenneth L. Jones and received congratulations from the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Jones, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Sheppard, Mrs. Edith Berry, and Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Jones, Jr.

Miss Scholten is a student at Mount Saint Mary's College in Westwood, and Mr. Jones is associated with his father in the firm of Wilder & Jones at Carmel. The romance began during a visit of Miss Scholten to the Orville Joneses during the war, when Kenneth was on leave awaiting overseas orders.

The young couple plan to be married early in July.

Roger Via Stork

Little Roger Barrie Ellis weighed only six pounds 12 ounces when he reached his parents on June 11. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis have all the more incentive now to please their customers at the Little Leather Shop on Dolores street.

Second Daughter

In a few days now Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Harrah will take their second daughter to their home at Alta and Junipero streets. Weighing six pounds and 13 ounces, the little girl was born on June 7. Jeannie is planning to celebrate her fourth birthday on the 18th of this month, and it seems that the best birthday present she could possibly ask for is this little sister named Shirley Louise.

Ladies Night

On Wednesday evening the Carmel Lions Club held Ladies' night with a dinner at Mission Ranch to honor the district governor, Frank Beckman, who spoke of his travels through Jamaica, showing motion pictures taken by himself. He was presented by President Fred Goss, and the regular Lions Club orchestra, composed of Sett Lucido, clarinet, Lou Kramer, saxophone, and Bob Harbart, piano, added to the entertainment. The entire 150 Lions and guests joined in the singing of old-fashioned songs before the meeting was closed.

Teddy Greene Feted

Last Monday Mrs. D. P. Blake gave a luncheon at the Pine Inn in honor of her niece, Theodosia Louise Greene (Teddy), who is graduating from high school this evening. The guests were Larry Harris, Joan Carr, Pat Bacon, Mary Gregory, Joanne Gorham and Sue Dekker. Teddy Greene has been promised a trip to Atlanta, Georgia, as a graduation present, and she plans to leave July 3. When she returns in the fall she will begin her studies at Scripps College in Claremont, California.

Houseparty at Otrich's Nest

Mrs. S. O. Otrich entertained a group of her Oakland friends with a house party at her home, The Ostrich's Nest, at Twelfth and Junipero last week end. Present were Mrs. Jean O'Rell, Mrs. Lillian Norman, Mrs. Janet Trotter, Mrs. Arrica Johnson and Mrs. Daisy Dudley. Mr. Otrich and "Duffy" his inseparable blonde companion (spaniel) were not invited but came anyway and kept the home fires burning.

Honoring Mrs. Rigdon

Mrs. Paul Low entertained at luncheon Tuesday in honor of Mrs. Jonathon Rigdon. Her guests were Mrs. Wilbur Wilkinson, Miss Agnes Shand, Mrs. Marie Louise Deissler, Mrs. Howard Clark, Mrs. Thor Hellum, Miss Shayne Ryan, Mrs. Millard Klein, and Mrs. Elizabeth Cass. Mrs. Rigdon and her children will leave Carmel June 15 for Chicago, where the home they expected to have in the spring is now ready and Colonel Rigdon is waiting the arrival of his family.

Date At The Altar

Mary Suzanne Biery of Carmel and Stuart McClatchy Johnson of San Francisco will be married Saturday, June 14, at 4:30, at the Church of the Wayfarer. It will be a simple wedding solemnized in the presence of the two families and a few close friends. The Reverend John A. Logan will read the service and Margaret Sherman Lea will preside at the organ.

Miss Biery will wear a powder blue suit with matching hat and a corsage of white orchids. Her attendant will be Mrs. Harry K. Chase, sister of the groom. John H. McCormack will stand as the best man.

Following the ceremony a reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents. Mary Suzanne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Biery, who moved to Carmel about a year ago from La Grange, Illinois. Miss Biery was graduated from the University of Illinois, where she was affiliated with the Alpha Delta Pi sorority. Stuart Johnson attended the University of California at Berkeley and served in the Pacific area during the war as a Captain in the Army. He is now in business in San Francisco, where the young couple will live after a honeymoon at Lake Tahoe.

KIPPY WINS PRIZE

"Everybody talks about the weather but nobody does anything about it" isn't going to apply to gardens any more. Wind is weather, isn't it? Mrs. George W. Stuart (our Kippy) just won first place in prizes offered by the San Francisco Chronicle for the best essay on wind-resistant plants.

In a state-wide contest Novelist Kippy has taken up gardening in a big way this year, covering up her typewriter and taking up her shovel and her hoe. Up on Hatton Fields Mesa where the wind has always had its own way, Kippy decided to do something about it. She is not one to take it lying down when her garden is tattered, and Colonel Stuart's beret is blown over the hedge. In her prize-winning essay she tells what her solanum vine has done, growing eighteen feet high and three feet thick, all in three years. It defies the blasts, requires no care and attracts no pests. What a Vine! The variety of prizes, won by Mrs. Stuart for her essay would make any gardener's mouth water.

McCREERY ADDRESSES B. A.

Guest speaker at the Carmel Business Association quarterly dinner meeting Thursday night was P. A. McCreery, chairman of the Carmel Planning Commission, who discussed the need, not only of city planning, but of co-operation on the part of the business and professional people with the commission in preserving the natural beauty of Carmel in face of the threatened building boom.

"A New Pattern in Furniture Behavior..."

... Says House Beautiful in the June number. It is true.

... Coming soon is a new and vital conception in functional furniture. This absolutely new furniture is not limited to a special function in a specific room. The desk, for example, can be moved from the living room to the bedroom with a simple change of accessories... or, the coffee table that combines an amazing number of uses, yet is truly a thing of beauty.

... This furniture goes anywhere, holds everything, stacks and restacks for literally any room of your home.

... It blends with any background, modern or traditional.

... Available will be cases, cabinets and chests—designed for books, magazines, accessories, bars, desks, bedding, vanities, wardrobes, shirts, children's clothes, cosmetics...

... Including, among the almost endless variations: a dressing table that is one of the most complete and efficient ever made; a coffee table that with a touch becomes either three feet or six feet, as desired; drawers and cabinets which can be stacked horizontally or vertically.

... As to the various upholstered forms of this definitely unique furniture (divans, lounges, etc.) each piece is of finest "Foam Rubber."

... Combinations of finish and color afford infinite possibilities. There are, actually, five distinct finishes from which to select: Walnut, Prima Vera, and ebonized finishes of Forest Green, Gunmetal, or Bittersweet.

... And, any combination of these five finishes can be had in any piece!

... You may choose from six different styles of draw pulls and hardware!

... We say "coming soon"—within a few weeks—and meanwhile we have a handsome set of illustrations, and samples of finishes... for your inspection.

Drop in... let us show you why there is today
"... a new pattern in furniture behavior."
You will be wholly delighted with this new furniture of such varied functions.

Visitors are always welcome.
